Learners will be offered a range of 'taster' courses, to stimulate their interest in future careers, and encourage them into more mainstream education. In order to support their college attendance, and reinforce their developing skills, the project will support learners into appropriate employment opportunities. In addition, as needed by the learner, assistance will be given to establish an essentials skills 'baseline' in numeracy, literacy and IT. In recognition of the challenges faced by our target learners, 'bridging' courses will also be made available, between the tasters and college courses, to increase self confidence, promote team-work and develop social skills. Learners will also be offered additional support and mentoring, as required, to assist them through the complete programme, from accessing the project, moving into mainstream education and finding appropriate work.
12002	Southampton City Council St Mary Street Southampton Hampshire SO14 1AR Helen Mason 023 8057 7642 helen.mason@southampton-city.ac.uk	A multi-route project enabling those 16-18 year olds who are not currently engaged in work or learning to explore the options open to them and spend time preparing to enter full time learning or training. Beginning with an extended diagnostic assessment of the learning needs and aspirations of the young person coupled with an analysis of the barriers that may prevent them from participating effectively, the project will offer each participant an individualised route through a range of menu options designed to smooth their progression into a full time learning or training opportunity.
12003	Isle of Wight College Medina Way Newport Isle of Wight PO30 5TA Nigel Mason 01983 526631	The project is to work more closely with identified individuals or small groups of young people who are at risk of withdrawing from education or training or are unsure or lack confidence in where their progression lies and how to take the next step. This build on the Connexions Additional Support Project, the IF 14-16 project and existing pastoral support services in developing a more intricate network between the three agencies involved; the Isle of Wight College, Connexions Careers and Hospitality Training Partnership. Three Personal Advisers will be employed, based in the three partnership

The Connexions Careers PA will act as the initial source of directed guidance for young people identified from schools, College and from a wider community base. From this point beneficiaries will be worked with on a one to one or small group basis by the PA's who will work together in providing support according to the client's needs enabling them to make the next step with confidence and with an identified adviser to support, mentor and/or guide them as they settle into their chosen provider.
12003	Cricklade College Charlton Road Andover Hampshire SP10 1EJ Tim Keighley 01264 360000 tkeighley@cricklade.ac.uk	This is a collaborative partnership between Cricklade College in Andover, Farnborough College of Technology, Basingstoke College of Technology and the Connexions Service to deliver a learning support programme for 16-18 year olds not currently in education, employment or training or at risk of dropping out. Delivering customised provision at a local level the additional funding will allow the partners to work together strategically to address common issues affecting post 16 take-up and retention - focusing on those groups most at risk. Motivational mentoring, cross agency networking and close but supportive attendance monitoring will form the core of the activities. Co-ordinating local services and provision will result in a programme that is more accurately targeted to the learning, social, welfare needs and aspirations of young people as well as the local economy.
21001	Southampton City Council 3rd Floor Overline House Blechynden Terrace Southampton SO15 1GW Denise Edghill 023 8083 2396 denise.edghill@southampton.gov.uk	The project is a collaboration between mainstream and social partners to address the barriers to learning faced by ex-offenders. Beneficiaries will be engaged and encouraged into learning through a matrix of settings and innovative support to meet their individual pastoral and learning needs. Mainstream providers report that this group is amongst the hardest to reach and retain. Social partners have demonstrated that, through building on individuals' interests and needs in settings and through workers who are trusted; ex-offenders can be enthused and enabled to access and progress in learning. Individuals will enter and access the matrix at different points according to their needs, although all will receive initial assessment and Individual Advice and Guidance. The aim is progression to mainstream learning, increased social and economic inclusion, and a break in the cycle of re-offending
