

Sharpen your leadership skills

With up to £1,000 from the
NEW Leadership and Management
Advisory Service to develop the innovative talents of business leaders

Now you can fulfil your leadership potential with an innovative personal development programme

Through the Leadership and Management Advisory Service from Train to Gain, access to a grant of up to £1,000 is now available to fully capitalise on your capabilities and talents as a business leader.

To be eligible you will need to:

- employ between 5 and 249 people
- contribute £500 to make £1,500 available for leadership and management development
- undertake a skills review to confirm your requirements

Show you are a leader by acting now to get ahead of the competition: complete and return the attached faxback form as soon as possible. Alternatively, call 08456 047 047 or e-mail: LMAS@businesslinksw.co.uk

The Service provides in-depth advice and diagnosis in order to provide you with an innovative and challenging personal development plan.

In the first instance, funding should be used to benefit the business owner or senior manager, but other managers can become involved through further employer investment.
